ActivTrades Launches a Christmas promotion
Trade shares without fees until 15th January 2016

Christmas always comes sooner than you think! This Christmas ActivTrades, an established London based broker, has launched a festive promotion for you to unwrap.

From 1st December 2015 to 15th January 2016, ActivTrades clients can trade CFDs on shares with no commission or data fees! Trade on the major stock exchanges including London Stock Exchange, NASDAQ, NYSE, without paying any fees on orders and without incurring any cost to access the markets.

ActivTrades' usual commission structure is one of the most competitive on the market at 0.05% and a minimum of only 1 pound – but for Christmas this has been waived.

For example opening a position of 2 000 pounds on the London Stock Exchange, the usual commission would be 1 pound; this cost will be completely removed in the promotion period. Similarly with larger positions of 50 000 pounds the savings will be much greater, up to 25 pounds for opening and closing a position, that's a total saving of 50 pounds!

The promotion is very beneficial for positions opened for a very short period, where decisions are heavily influenced by the cost of fees.

At the end of the offer period, the listing fee will revert back to the commission structure of 0.05%, with a minimum of a pound and fixed costs will be restored.

The promotion is valid for both new and existing customers. If you're not yet an ActivTrades client, simply visit the website to open a live account: www.activtrades.com

Don't miss out on an early Christmas present!
