

ActivTrades reduces spreads on over 40 currency pairs

On 1st January 2016, London based broker ActivTrades permanently reduced spreads for its clients, with EUR/USD now 0.7 pips.

Consistently one of the market leaders for competitive fees, ActivTrades has decided to reduce spreads by 0.1 pips on all tradable currencies*, with absolutely no commission. ActivTrades' International Desk Manager, Ricardo Evangelista, stated 'we always consider our clients' needs and adapt to changes in the markets.'

For example a spread of 0.7 on 1 lot EUR/USD, would mean clients have to pay a spread of only $7 as opposed to the previous $8, making trading significantly cheaper. This reduction will be beneficial for all traders, including scalpers and multi-day traders.

These low spreads are available to all new and existing clients, for full details on ActivTrades low spreads and to open a live account visit www.activtrades.com

*Excludes: USDBRL, USDCNH, USDRUB
